TRAVEL & FILM LOGISTICS

TIERRA DEL FUEGO NATIONAL PARK
+ THE END OF THE WORLD TRAIN

We start our day picking up the passengers at the hotel. We drive to the End of the World main train station where, those who desire to take the ride, board on the mystic train the prisoners of Ushuaia used during the past century.

The ride takes about one hour with a 15-minute stop at the “Macarena Waterfall” station, which was a must disembark point for the convicts to gather water for the steam locomotives.

The train travels through the Trees Cemetery – where the prisoners used to cut trees – and the peat bog.

At the final station a vehicle waits for us to keep driving around the Tierra del Fuego National Park. People who didn't take the train who straight into the park.

We reach the Zarategui Bay, where the southernmost post office is located and a landscape that outstands with its sea, islands and woods.

Our tour continues by visiting the magical spaces and corners of the park that the nature gifts us with its rivers, lakes, lagoons, mountains, woods, bushes like Michay and the famous Calafate; the wildlife with its charming Andean fox and its great variety of birds, from the woodpecker to the black-neck swan and the sheldgoose.

Between these wonders we find Lapataia Bay, we arrive to the end of the national route N°3 and we walk to immerse ourselves in the beauty of the End of the World's landscape.

After photographing the place to capture this unique moment we drive back to the city.
